

You Come to Me?

Before Colorworks, car owners were faced with expensive and inconvenient visits to a bodyshop for small autobody damage. We thought there was a niche between bodyshop and a detail shop to address minor paint and body repairs. We packaged this in a unique mobile service and the concept took off.

Our customers are the key to our success and we have built our business around repeat customers. Happy customers are repeat customers. We started in the fleet and dealer market, customers who know cars better than anyone else. Dealers, leasing companies and fleet customers scrutinize our work like nobody else. Call your local dealer for a reference on Colorworks. You will see that our growth is based around you, our customer.
